Title of the best practice: E waste Management

The Context in the 20th Century, revolution in the information and communication techniques brought the huge changes in the way we organise our lives, our economies, industries and institution. Specifically, the electronic industry in the world is the largest and fastest growing manufacturing industry. However, it led to give birth to E waste production. E waste means electronics waste products generated by the electronics industry. E waste produces of massive amount of hazardous waste and other wastes generated from electric products. It constitutes a serious challenge to the modern societies and health issues due to informal recycling, poor awareness and reluctance on part of the corporate to address the critical issues. These thing keep in mind our department decides to take initiative about the E waste awareness among the students and society. Hence series of programmes was arranged in the department including E-waste poster competition, E-waste seminar competition, E waste awareness survey

Objective of the Practice:

- To aware student and society about the E Waste Pollution
- To encourage student for searching the data related to the E waste
- To boost up the presentation skill of the student
- To develop the interest in student other than academics and try to thinks them about society welfare.

Advantages:

- Students took interest in collecting and presented the data related to e-waste
- Number of student express that activity is good it gives new knowledge about the hazardous disadvantage of e waste and survey activity is new and best experience to shear information about the serious problem among the society.
- During survey people admitted that they are not aware about the severity of e waste in future they will take care about its disposal

Challenging issues:

- To recycling of e waste in not possible at college level

Evidence of success:
